Pro Bono Publico!

IF YOU LOVE YOUR COUNTRY, encourage Home Productions! Why will you send abroad for wretchedly spurious articles, when you can have the good and true and beautiful of Oregon material and Oregon workmanship close at your very doors!

Why impoverish your country and its mechanics by the calculations of Prejudice, or by parsimonious misdirection?

ROCKING CHAIRS,
ARM CHAIRS, CRADLES,

Other articles, too numerous to mention, either on hand or made to order.

The superscribers would modestly infer to the most gracious public of the State of Oregon that they would gladly exchange any or all of the above articles for "READY MONEY," or any other article of commerce that will by the conveyance give pleasurable sensations to the high contracting parties.

The life-spring of trade, "READY CASH,"
No matter in which way we view it,
Enables us onward to dash,
And therefore we mean to stick to it.

Billiard and Ten Pin Balls turned to the most exact spherical conformation.

Various kinds of turning executed with the beauty of true taste, and the truth of true order.

Lots fenced in with strength and beauty.

No News —We are greatly disappointed by our failure to receive dispatches yesterday by telegraph, and even in our California exchanges received by mail we are unable to find any items of special intelligence not already published by us By the steamer Sierra Nevada, which left San Francisco on Monday afternoon, and will be due at this port this evening or early in the morning we may expect news from the Eastern States three days later than we now have

Startling if True

Mr Henry's organ at Olympia after pretending to hunt for the causes of Mr Raynor's defeat—blindly shutting its eyes to the all-sufficient one which exists in its own presence—declares that it is the fault of (the) Oregonian, and of Hon S P Chase, Secretary of the Treasury Well so far as we are concerned, if we had done any such thing, we should greatly prefer as our associate in the wonderful deed the patriotic and able Secretary to the Surveyor General But the charge is utterly untrue in our case We endeavored to do everything in our power, and in all sincerity to secure the election of the Union candidate, but some of the office holders over there and one or two dictatorial fools on this side, like blind and crazy hounds, pitched into us, and by their mad folly actually saved for Cole the secession vote, which but for them, we think he would have lost They may thank their own stupidity for that result.

As to Mr Chase's part of the guilt he is accused of retaining a bad man in office who for the sake of injuring the Administration, irritated the honest people so much by putting in force an old, unjustifiable, arbitrary and oppressive custom house regulation, that even loyal voters would not support an Administration which allowed such mischievous action [illegible] any foundation whatever Mr Chase cannot be actuated by any such petty spite, and the charge is the natural child of the wrath of the Surveyor General, who did not have his own way about every thing in the Treasury Department, as he expected to do

As to the regulation complained of, we know nothing, only we observe that another Collector, in the other Henry organ at Salem, this week, gives seventeen reasons why he thinks the order was made and was justifiable We put the Doctor against the other fellow They are about equal in all things—well paired and matched

The real cause of the defeat of the Union candidate every intelligent man understands, exactly, as we doubt not Mr Raynor does He was compelled to be identified with the Henry clique, though we think unjustly;—still, the suspicion was so strong that in spite of all denial, it became a burden too great for him or any other man to bear, the people loathe and detest it as they do official dictation and tyranny everywhere—and of course when the opportunity offered, they repudiated it as they always will

A Suggestion for Thanksgiving Day.—At the suggestion of several ladies and gentlemen who feel and have manifested a deep and active interest in the welfare of sick and wounded soldiers, we respectfully suggest to the people of this State and Washington Territory that collections be made in all the congregations which meet for worship on the day of National Thanksgiving, in aid of the purposes of the Sanitary Commission We fully appreciate the large and general liberality already shown, but it may be that some will thus have an opportunity to give not heretofore afforded, and that others who have already contributed will not be sorry to repeat their generosity ; for it must not be forgotten that the terrible losses in the recent battles, though resulting in splendid victories, have placed thousands of new sufferers in charge of the Commission and compelled it to ask for further and munificent donations Can we if thankful for these victories, more appropriately prove our lively gratitude than by remembering those whose blood has helped to win such triumphs ?

We trust the clergy with accustomed philanthropy, will give to this suggestion their attention, and we ask that the newspapers of Oregon and Washington will please to publish this article

How they Love the White Man —The journals of the Confederate Democracy are still denouncing the Government for employing negro troops There were 50,000 blacks in the service, a month or six weeks ago and of course these consistent journals would have them all discharged and white men put in their places Their love for a Southern rebel's chattel, is stronger than their sympathy for the wives and little ones of loyal white men These blacks in the army reduce by so much the number of Northern Democrats to be conscripted but these consistent journals want the darkies excluded even while they continue to [illegible] the draft

The Removal of Gen Hooker

At the time we heard by telegraph of the change of commanders no cause was assigned and there was much speculation on the subject The Eastern papers now received seem to have been quite as much in the dark, as will be seen by the following extracts The Tribune thus dismisses the late commander

General Hooker has painfully disappointed the hopes and expectations not merely of his friends but of all those who had learned to regard him as at least a brave and persistent fighter Since the battles of Chancellorsville he has lost that character with all who know the real history of his needless and disastrous retreat across the Rappahannock Such an opportunity of annihilating the rebel army cannot be expected to present itself again He was surprised and immensely outnumbered, and ought to have been destroyed That in such circumstances he was not we have ever since thought a sufficient cause for the removal of General Hooker, but we fail to understand why it was not removed then instead of now Additional causes may be found in the failure to arrest the present advance of Lee which ought to have been prevented and might have been by a prompt seizure of the Blue Ridge passes

The Evening Post does not like the time chosen for the change, but thinks Hooker deficient in strategic talent

It was expected shortly after the battle of Chancellorsville, that General Hooker would be removed from the command of the Army of the Potomac He had failed in action and like McClellan, Pope and Burnside in similar circumstances there was a prima facie case against him Choosing his own time of movement, and his own place for a battle he had been compelled to retreat not, perhaps ignominiously but yet with a great loss of men and a still greater loss of reputation to our army He had shown as he has always shown, excellent fighting qualities but he had not shown that commanding strategical ability and that ready mastery of men, which are necessary to the General of the highest order

The Times says that it sustained Hooker after the battle of Chancellorsville, "for the purpose of upholding the confidence of the people and the army in its leader" and accounts for the removal by adding that "the Administration has at last come to entertain the feeling so widely prevalent in the country of a want of perfect confidence in General Hooker "

The following General Orders—both admirable in tone and spirit—were published immediately after the reception of the notice of the change of commanders, which seems to have taken the army by the greatest possible surprise Gen Hooker issued the following address

Headquarters Army of the Potomac
Frederick Md June 28 1863
[General Order, No 65]

In conformity with the orders of the War Department, dated June 27, 1863, I relinquish the command of the Army of the Potomac It is transferred to Major General George C Meade, a brave and accomplished officer, who has nobly earned the confidence and esteem of the army on many a well fought field Impressed with the belief that my usefulness as the commander of the Army of the Potomac is impaired, I part from it, yet not without the deepest emotion The sorrow of parting [illegible] duties is relieved by the conviction that the courage and devotion of this army will never cease nor fail, that it will yield to my successor, as it has to me, a willing and hearty support With the earnest prayer that the triumph of its arms may bring successes worthy of it and the nation, I bid it farewell

JOSEPH HOOKER,
Major General

The above order was followed by the subjoined address from Gen Meade

Headquarters Army of the Potomac,
June 28, 1863
[General Order, No 66]

By direction of the President of the United States, I hereby assume command of the Army of the Potomac As a soldier, in obeying this order, an order totally unexpected and unsolicited, I have no promises or pledges to make The country looks to this army to relieve it from the devastation and disgrace of a hostile invasion Whatever fatigues and sacrifices we may be called upon to undergo, let us have in view constantly the magnitude of the interests involved, and let each man determine to do his duty leaving to an all controlling Providence the decision of the contest It is with just diffidence that I relieve in the command of this army an eminent and distinguished soldier, whose name must ever appear conspicuous in the history of its achievements but I rely upon the hearty support of my companions in arms to assist me in the discharge of the duties of the important trust which has been confided to me

GEORGE G MEADE
Major General Commanding

Pacific University —We have received a circular stating that the collegiate year in this institution will commence on the 5th August next, under encouraging circumstances We are glad to hear of the success of an enterprise so noble in its designs of usefulness We believe that the public have reason to expect at Forest Grove faithful instruction by able teachers, under circumstances every way favorable to the pupils The large and efficient corps of teachers are—by the aid of endowments given expressly for their support—established among us for the public service and we hope that this service will be appreciated by a liberal patronage during the coming session In addition to the college proper, under the instruction of President Marsh and Professors Lyman and Tanner there is provision for the instruction of young ladies, by Mrs Marsh and Mrs Tanner

How Slaves were Abused in Louisiana. An army officer writes from Louisiana to the Boston Transcript that the camp of the black regiments with General Banks are models of neatness and order and that but one man in the whole command has been punished for misconduct Never were men seen to fight with more dauntless courage and devotion than these raw recruits He adds

Every man presenting himself to be recruited strips to the skin, to be surveyed by the surgeon We do not accept one half that offer On Tuesday out of 82 only 25 were accepted I have directed my surgeons to keep accurate lists of the causes of rejection They report to me that not one in fifteen is free from the marks of severe lashing More than one half are rejected because of disability arising from lashing with whips and the biting of dogs on their calves and thighs It is frightful Hundreds of them have welts on their backs as large as your largest finger I intend to have these memoranda collected and published with the certificate of surgeons

What becomes of the Disabled Soldier ?—The Home Journal gives the following in proof that republics and communities are not ungrateful

It is our impression from observation, that the poor fellows who have been crippled in defense of the Union are not long thrown deserted by mankind in the day of their misfortune Several of the public institutions in this city which require men for light indoor and outdoor work are giving preference to wounded soldiers Advertisements frequently appear in the papers for men of the same class to act as gatekeepers doortenders or in some capacity requiring vigilance and intelligence, but not physical strength Instances are of frequent occurrence where invalid soldiers, who are still able to go into some light business on their own account, receive liberal patronage from their neighbors and the public generally for that reason alone We are sure that any book-keeper or accountant who has been so unlucky as to lose a limb in the war, and who is sober, honest and intelligent need not seek long for a situation in this city Perhaps the best proof that our wounded soldiers are not uncared for by this community is afforded by the fact that they are never seen begging Somebody always takes the poor fellow by the hand before he reaches that degradation

A Church Incident —The San Francisco Star of July 20th, says "an incident occurred in one of the city churches last evening which singularly illustrates the power of oratory and the advantages of extemporaneous preaching under certain circumstances While Bishop Janes was preaching to a crowded audience in the basement of the new church now being erected on Howard street the gas suddenly went out leaving the congregation in total darkness The Bishop, with rare presence of mind, remarked "The Gospel light shineth in dark places," and continued his discourse and such was the charm of his naturally weak but admirably modulated and controlled voice that not one of his large audience moved from their positions but perfect silence and order was observed until light was obtained To the ear nothing indicated that anything unusual had occurred The effect of listening to a discourse uttered amid darkness was singular in the extreme "

Great Decline in Cotton Goods.—The editor of the Washington Chronicle writing from New York, thus refers to the "Dry Goods King" there

It is now said that Stewart will lose at least two millions of dollars by the purchases he made in goods last winter Cottons shirtings and sheetings, were marked down upon his counter in one day from forty cents per yard to twenty eight I took advantage of the decline and purchased one piece of shirting Stewart can afford the loss of two millions and not suffer It is said that he has made millions upon millions out of the war I saw fine calico prints selling on Saturday for twelve and a half cents per yard It seemed like old times in Yankeedom, when raw cotton was plenty and calicoes went begging

Change of Name —The Herald came out yesterday under a new name, "The Daily Republic," still, however, preserving its old cognomen, for the purpose, as stated, "of completing the publication of certain legal advertisements " The Herald is evidently the organ of the Union Central Committee It flies the name of Charles Westmoreland, Esq , as editor Mr W has established his reputation [illegible] able political [illegible]—S F Call

REPENTED.—Two soldiers who deserted from Vancouver some time ago, yesterday gave themselves up to Lieut. Small, recruiting officer in this city, and volunteered to return to their duty for the balance of their term of service, provided intercession were made to procure a remission of their punishment. As there were many palliative circumstances connected with their breach of duty, Governor Gibbs kindly consented to accompany them to Vancouver, and endeavor to obtain from the commandant there a partial abolishment of the severe punishment usually inflicted upon deserters. We understand that the governor and deserters went last evening to Vancouver.

ARRIVED.—The steamer from the Cascades last evening brought very few passengers and no gold dust worthy of mention. It was expected she would bring the express and passengers from the upper river, but the steamer from Umatilla had not arrived at the Dalles when the boat left.

THE WEATHER yesterday was mild and pleasant. At no time during the day did the thermometer rise above 84° in the shade and 102° in the sun.

MEETING.—This evening, at 2 o'clock, there will be a meeting of the stockholders of the Portland and Milwaukie Macadamized Road Company, at the United States Court-rooms. We understand that very important business will be transacted at this meeting.

ENTERPRISE.—We yesterday received an ingenious and very useful calendar, together with a handsome map of the seat of war in Virginia, which were published by the Home Insurance Company of New York. Both the map and calendar combine the useful and the ornamental. The remarkable prosperity of this insurance company proves beyond dispute that advertising extensively is the great secret of business success.

BENEFIT OF MR. G. B. WALDRON.—This popular and favorite artiste, having been tendered a grand complimentary benefit by a large number of influential citizens—in token of their appreciation, not only of his ability as a manager and actor, but of his gentlemanly and social qualities in private life—has decided upon this evening as a suitable occasion to receive the merited compliment thus offered by his numerous friends and admirers. Mr. Waldron has selected for representation one of the most powerful dramas of the times, entitled "Fraud and its Victims, or the Poor of London," in which he will sustain one of his original and favorite characters, the merry vagabond, "Tom Trumper." The remainder of the cast will be sustained by the whole strength of the company. We had the pleasure yesterday of witnessing the rehearsal of this play, and were much pleased with the many striking scenes and incidents with which this interesting picture of our own times abounds. The performances will conclude with a song and dance by Mr. Irwin. We sincerely hope that our citizens will convince Mr. Waldron that when they tender a complimentary benefit to a favorite, it is an occasion he will ever remember as both flattering to his talents and substantial in its results.

OUR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—When the pilgrims landed on Plymouth Rock, they raised their voices in thanksgiving to God for their deliverance from persecutions and the dangers of the deep, and erected a church in which they might worship Him. But adjacent to the village church they built the public school house, and established the public school. Their primary devotion was to the worship of God, their secondary to the education of their children. Hence they enacted, among their first laws, that every child should be educated at the public expense, in a common school, where the rich and the poor, the high and the low, should share in common privileges. No step was ever taken by any people which was so well intended to promote liberty, freedom, peace, happiness and prosperity, as that for the founding and putting into operation a system of public schools—one of the distinguished characteristics of our civil polity. The wisdom of this bill may be seen in the general diffusion of knowledge among us, in the success which has attended our elective form of government, and the progress which is seen in every branch of art and industry. Around our public schools all true, freedom-loving men should rally, and every means which can improve and perfect the system should be freely lavished upon it. There have been objections raised to our system of public schools by those who, by wealth or birth, feel something of the aristocratic notion. They think their children will be polluted by contact, and will imbibe the notions of the ignoble throng. Temporary opposition has been raised by some of the teachers chosen to instruct, or the directors elected to preside over the management of a school, and who may be of a political belief antagonistic to their own. This class labor under the hallucination that their children will be contaminated with doctrines derogatory to true patriotism. Sentiments like these are well calculated to detract from the well being and prosperity of a public school, and should not be maintained by the intelligent and patriotic citizens. On the contrary, it is the duty of every lover of his country to labor assiduously for the permanence of our common schools, for they are the basis of liberty. Our security, prosperity and happiness as a nation must depend upon the excellence of our public schools. If their influence is weakened or destroyed, we undermine the very foundation of the republic. Every good citizen should feel that he has a personal interest in them. His dearest affections should cling about them as being the nurseries of the thoughts and feelings of his children. He should look upon the teachers and directors as his friends, laboring for his interests, and should inculcate into the minds of his children confidence and respect for them. It is an indication of the intelligence of the citizens of Portland that they have so fine a public school house—elevated, commodious and attractive. The structure itself a model of taste and beauty, and of approved architecture, stands as a monument of the liberality and public spirit of the city.

Yet it is due to suffering humanity, and especially to that numerous class who in the changeable climate of the Pacific Coast, are including and ending in CONSUMPTION, many of whom may not have used this remedy, that they should be allowed to read of some of the cases where its influence has been useful in remedying complaints from which they are suffering. The EXPECTORANT

Operates immediately upon the Disease,

SURELY AND SPEEDILY ERADICATING IT, while the SANATIVE PILLS, by preserving regularity in the bowels, and giving a healthy tone to the other internal organs, aid and assist the perfect operation of the former.

Attention is asked to the following Certificates, selected at random from the mass in the possession of the proprietors:

UPPER UWCHLAND, Chester Co, Pa, Sept 15, 1858.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Having been afflicted with ASTHMA and BRONCHITIS, and having the advice of some of the most eminent physicians, whose skillful treatment of my case did not prove to be of any avail, I obtained no relief for my suffering until I commenced the use of your EXPECTORANT. After taking it for about three months, I was entirely cured. NATHAN PENNYPACKER.

ASTORIA, Long Island, Jan 15, 1860.

L. W. TINELLI, Esq, New York—Sir: As you well know I had been afflicted with BRONCHITIS, accompanied with the most painful tightness of the chest, and great difficulty in breathing for nearly two months, and I had almost lost all confidence in the power of medical science, when at your friendly suggestion, I began the well known (but not enough known) "EXPECTORANT" of Dr. Jayne, of Philadelphia. Three or four days after having commenced to take it, my cough had nearly subsided, the expectoration was easy, and the breathing quite free.

I am now quite another man, and my general health has never been better.

I remain, my dear Tinelli, with esteem, your servant and friend J. B. MONTE.

WINFIELD, Tuscarawas Co. O., May 31, 1860.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: One bottle of your Expectorant cured my daughter of the LONG FEVER, after having been beyond the hopes of recovery. During the attack she had a number of convulsions. She is now perfectly well. J. H. COFFMAN.

BURLINGTON, Bradford Co, Pa, July 23, 1863.

Dr. D. JAYNE—Dear Sir: My son was for one and a half years afflicted with a disease resembling CONSUMPTION. For two years he was not able to labor. He was finally induced to try your EXPECTORANT and PILLS, and after taking 10 bottles and some PILLS, was completely cured, and is now able to labor every day. JOHN HENRY.

We would add to the above that we sold to Mr Henry the medicine for his son, and know that the statement is true. MERRY, WILHELM & CO.

DR. BAKER'S

PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oils and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate, to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases: If they are not satisfied with its healing properties the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal the sore in a short time.

JAMES BUCHANAN.—A Harrisburg, Pa correspondent of the Pittsburg Chronicle writes: A curious incident occurred to me on my return from Philadelphia yesterday, to this place. An aged man, with profuse flaxenly white whiskers, his long white hair hanging over his coat collar, entered the cars. His hat was rather broad in the rim and showed a rather large sized head under it, the face is beginning to sink from its flabby roundness, and the skin drawing tightly over the cheek bones; the large eyes, one of which is slightly drawn aside, rolled around restlessly and nervously. Alone he entered the cars, with a small portmanteau in hand. No one accompanied him. No one greeted him upon his entrance, though his uneasiness of manner showed that he expected at least respect, if not adulation. Not a single salutation, either by an offer of hands or any other recognition was given. The tremulous motion of hands and head showed that age was laying its hands heavily upon him. Seventy five years was superinducing the debility which precedes paralysis. The step was feeble and the form bowed.

I sat for an hour a silent but attentive observer of all that was transpiring about him. Not a soul addressed him. Gloomy, absorbed and silent he sat, as one who felt keenly that power had departed, and that with it had gone his influence. Many of the passengers, and among them the soldiers on board, peered curiously at him as they would at a wild animal of some unknown species in a menagerie. The soldiers after looking at him would pass into the forward cars and curse him deeply and bitterly. Yet with all this dissatisfaction at his presence, there was no open insult by look, gesture or expression in his presence inflicted upon him. They respected too much the majestic sacredness of the office he had once filled.

The train at last reached Lancaster. A crowd was found surrounding the car, as there always is at that place. The old man passed out as tremulously as he entered. No kind smile, no greeting, no warm shake of the hand, no eyes beaming with delight, as they are wont to upon one who has borne the highest honors his country could confer, when those honors have remained green and beautiful until honor is laid down and life departs. Shuffling slowly along the platform, he met only one person who noticed him—a poor, aged janitor, of the side-rooms of the depot. Even this meeting was marked with lively satisfaction. The interview lasted one moment, and like a fleeting shadow James Buchanan passed into the main street of Lancaster, solitary and sad, amid his neighbors and those who were his friends in former years. What a commentary upon such a career! Is it not a just sentence? Will not history and posterity confirm its justice? How horrid it must be to undergo such a living death, to lead such a disentombed existence. Even this world contains many of the premonitory punishments of the next. I think this "old man" of Wheatland is subjected to them.

A FEROCIOUS REBEL APPEAL FOR LYNCHING.—If the excitement caused by Stoneman's and Streight's marauding and plundering raids should have the effect of inducing our people everywhere to organize in such a manner as to provide against the renewed attempts of the same kind, which cannot fail to be made by our enemies, no victory that we have yet achieved could prove of more essential service to the Confederacy. But in order to stimulate the efforts now being made in that direction, our government should lose no time in proclaiming its intentions as regards the participants in such raids, whenever caught by our troops or the volunteer organizations now springing up everywhere for home defense. Nothing can be clearer than that these outlaws in uniform should not be dealt with as soldiers or belligerents. To treat them, when captured, as ordinary prisoners would be but to invite a repetition of similar outrages. As robbers, incendiaries and murderers, they come into our country, and as such they must be shot down, strung up or set to work in our penitentiaries, like other thieves and assassins. If we fail to do so, we shall incur the contempt and ridicule of the whole world. It will be equivalent to a standing invitation to all the thieves in Yankeedom to come and set fire to our houses, plunder our cities and villages, carry off our negroes and commit nameless outrages upon our defenseless population. Whenever confronted by an armed force they would be only too glad to surrender as prisoners, with the prospect of returning to their hellish work after being exchanged. Thus the two darling objects of the Yankee in this war—to rob the unprotected and keep out of reach of Confederate powder—would be fully secured, and the whole population of the New England States, including their blasphemous preachers and strong minded women of African proclivities, would embrace with enthusiasm this newest and most promising of all Yankee "specs." With proper preparations to receive them, every gang of mounted highwaymen that ventures upon Southern ground can be bagged, their horses and weapons taken from them and their carcases turned over to the jailor or the hangman! The immediate result of such a mode of dealing with the marauders, if not merely announced by our government, but actually carried out in every case, would be to throw the wettest of all imaginable blankets on the now prevailing Yankee frenzy for "cavalry raids," whilst it would stimulate to the utmost every man engaged in the exciting sport of hunting the Jayhawkers.—From the Richmond Dispatch, June 12.

THE SIEVES OF SOCIETY.—Beware of oozy-headed people, between whose ears and mouth there is no partition. Before you make a bosom friend of any man, be sure that he is secret tight. The mischief that the non retentive do is infinite. In social life they often set whole communities by the ears, frequently break up families, and are the cause of numerous misfortunes, miseries and crimes. In business, they spoil many a promising speculation, and involve hundreds in bankruptcy and ruin. Therefore be very careful to whom you intrust information of vital importance to your own happiness, to the interests of those you hold dear. Every man has a natural inclination to communicate what he knows, and if he does not do so, it is because his reason and judgment are strong enough to correct his inherent propensity. When you find a friend who can exercise absolute power over the communicative instinct—if we may so term it—wear him in your heart. If you have no such friend, keep your own counsel.

ALONE IN LIFE.—What can be more discouraging than the feeling in our struggle through life, in our trials and disappointments, there are none to sympathize and care for us? No man can go far with strength, courage and cheer, if he goes alone. We are made to be happier and better by each other's notice, appreciation, help and praise, and the hearts that are debarred from these influences, invariably wither, harden and break. Here and there are found persons, who from pride, perverseness, or often their sensitiveness, which they seek to hide, affect to be altogether independent of the notice or regard of their fellow beings; but it was a very safe assertion to make, that never yet was there one human heart that did not at some time, long for the sympathy of other hearts. And there is a nobility in this feeling.

WELL PUT.—The Louisville Journal says if anybody is dissatisfied with Federal money, let him go to the South and get Confederate money. If anybody is dissatisfied with United States taxes, let him go South and pay Southern taxes. If anybody is dissatisfied with the United States enrolment, let him go South and enjoy the benefits of the Southern conscription.

The Ohio Democratic Convention which nominated Vallandigham passed resolutions against the Administration, against its emancipation policy, against Gov Tod, and against pretty nearly everything except the rebellion and traitors. Not a word was "resolved" against these.

Quilp, having spoken rather disparagingly of the female sex, in the hearing of a lady friend, was rebuked for his impertinence by the question: "What would be the effect upon the men if all the 'little dears' should perish?" "Why," said Quilp, "I acknowledge that the result would be a universal stag-nation."

Gen. Halleck, we are told, is about to take the field. We should like to see a field that he could take; and if he should be as long in taking it as he was in taking Corinth, neither we nor the enemy need be under any concern as to his movements.—Boston Traveler.

INDUCED by the extensive sale and universal popularity of Hoofland's German Bitters, (purely vegetable,) hosts of ignorant Quacks and unscrupulous adventurers have opened upon suffering humanity the flood gates of Nostrums in the shape of poor Whisky, vilely compounded with injurious drugs, and christened Tonics, Stomachics and Bitters.

Beware of the innumerable array of Alcoholic preparations in plethoric bottles and big bellied kegs, under the modest appellation of Bitters, which instead of curing only aggravate disease, and leave the disappointed sufferer in despair.

Hoofland's German Bitters!

Are not a new and untried article, but have stood the test of fifteen years trial by the American public, and their reputation and sale are not rivalled by any similar preparation.

The proprietors have thousands of letters from the most eminent

CLERGYMEN,
PHYSICIANS and CITIZENS,

Testifying of their own personal knowledge, to the beneficial effects and medical virtues of these Bitters.

Do you want something to strengthen you?
Do you want a good appetite?
Do you want to build up your constitution?
Do you want to feel well?
Do you want to get rid of nervousness?
Do you want energy?
Do you want to sleep well?
Do you want a brisk and vigorous feeling?

If so, use HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS.

From Rev. J. Newton Brown, D. D., Editor of the Encyclopedia of Religious Knowledge.

Although not disposed to favor or recommend Patent Medicines in general, through distrust of their ingredients and effects, I yet know of no sufficient reasons why a man may not testify to the benefits he believes himself to have received from any simple preparation, in the hope that he may thus contribute to the benefit of others.

I do this the more readily in regard to Hoofland's German Bitters, prepared by Dr. C. M. Jackson, of this city, because I was prejudiced against them for many years, under the impression that they were chiefly an alcoholic mixture. I am indebted to my friend Robert Shoemaker, Esq., for the removal of this prejudice by proper tests, and for encouragement to try them when suffering from great and long continued debility. The use of three bottles of these Bitters at the beginning of the present year, was followed by evident relief and restoration to a degree of bodily and mental vigor which I had not felt for six months before, and had almost despaired of regaining. I, therefore, thank God and my friend for directing me to the use of them.

J. NEWTON BROWN.
PHILADELPHIA, June 23, 1861.

PARTICULAR NOTICE.

There are many preparations sold under the name of Bitters, put up in quart bottles, compounded of the cheapest whisky or common rum, costing from 20 to 40 cents per gallon, the taste disguised by Anise or Coriander Seed.

This class of Bitters has caused, and will continue to cause, as long as they can be sold, hundreds to die the death of the drunkard. By their use the system is kept continually under the influence of Alcoholic Stimulants of the worst kind, the desire for Liquor is created and kept up, and the result is all the horrors attendant upon a drunkard's life and death.

For those who desire and will have a Liquor Bitters, we publish the following receipt: Get One Bottle Hoofland's German Bitters and mix with Three Quarts of Good Brandy or Whiskey, and the result will be a preparation that will far excel in medicinal virtues and true excellence any of the numerous Liquor Bitters in the market, and will cost much less. You will have all the virtues of Hoofland's Bitters in connection with a good article of Liquor, at a much less price than these inferior preparations will cost you.

ATTENTION, SOLDIERS!

AND THE FRIENDS OF SOLDIERS.

We call the attention of all having relations or friends in the army to the fact that HOOFLAND'S German Bitters will cure nine tenths of the diseases induced by exposures and privations incident to camp life. In the lists, published almost daily in the newspapers on the arrival of the sick, it will be noticed that a very large proportion are suffering from debility. Every case of that kind can be readily cured by Hoofland's German Bitters. Diseases resulting from disorders of the digestive organs are speedily removed. We have no hesitation in stating that, if these Bitters were freely used among our soldiers, hundreds of lives might be saved that otherwise will be lost.

We call particular attention to the following remarkable and well authenticated cure of one of the nation's heroes, whose life, to use his own language, "has been saved by the Bitters."

PHILADELPHIA, August 23, 1862.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Well, gentlemen, your Hoofland's German Bitters has saved my life. There is no mistake in this. It is vouched for by numbers of my comrades, some of whose names are appended, and who were fully cognizant of all the circumstances of my case. I am, and have been for the last four years, a member of Sherman's celebrated battery, and under the immediate command of Captain R. B. Ayres. Through the exposure attendant upon my arduous duties, I was attacked in November last with inflammation of the lungs, and was for seventy two days in the hospital. This was followed by great debility, heightened by an attack of dysentery. I was then removed from the White House, and sent to this city on board the steamer State of Maine, from which I landed on the 28th of June. Since that time I have been about as low as one could be and still retain a spark of vitality. For a week or more I was scarcely able to swallow anything, and if I did force a morsel down, it was immediately thrown up again.

I could not even keep a glass of water on my stomach. Life could not last under these circumstances; and, accordingly, the physicians who had been working faithfully, though unsuccessfully, to rescue me from the grasp of the dread Archer, frankly told me they could do no more for me, and advised me to see a clergyman, and to make such disposition of my limited funds as best suited me. An acquaintance who visited me at the hospital, Mr Frederick Steinbron, of Sixth below Arch Street, advised me, as a forlorn hope, to try your Bitters, and kindly procured a bottle. From the time I commenced taking them the gloomy shadow of death receded, and I am now, thank God for it, getting better. Though I have taken but two bottles, I have gained ten pounds, and I feel sanguine of being permitted to rejoin my wife and daughter, from whom I have heard nothing for eighteen months, for, gentlemen, I am a loyal Virginian from the vicinity of Front Royal. To your invaluable Bitters I owe the certainty of life which has taken the place of vague fears—to your Bitters will I owe the glorious privilege of again clasping to my bosom those who are dearest to me in life.

Very truly yours, ISAAC MALONE.

We fully concur in the truth of the above statement, as we had despaired of seeing our comrade Mr. Malone, restored to life.
